Description - Troop 346 is the home of the world's largest monkey bridge built by Boy Scouts. We affectionately call it "The Gorilla Bridge." Troop 346 is a boy-led Troop with an emphasis on the "OUTING" in Scouting. In addition to weekly meetings, the boys plan at least one weekend camping experience per month. These trips range from high adventure to car camping. We try to utilize the many resources available to us through Boy Scouts. The greater majority of our weekend outdoor activities take place on Boy Scout property owned and operated by the various councils in Texas. In addition to monthly activities, the older boys plan at least one high adventure trip per year including trips to Philmont and The Boundary Waters. Activities such as summer camp, leadership training, merit badge workshops, and community service projects round out their program. We actively participate in Operation First Class (becoming a 1st class Scout within the first year of joining Boy Scouts). Our "honor roll" boasts of many Eagle Scouts since our founding in the late 1960's. For more information contact Scoutmaster Jim Causey.

An older boys program with unique activities for the older Scout assists in the retention of boys to the Eagle rank. To round out the Troop program, council activities such as Freeze-O-Ree, Camp-O-Ree, community service projects, Order of the Arrow, and high adventures trips are supported. Trained, experienced Scoutmasters and Committee Members provide guidance to the "Scout Centered" program. Partial adult participation is encouraged.
